EXAMINER'S AMENDMENT

1. An examiner's amendment to the record appears below. Should the changes and/or additions be unacceptable to applicant, an amendment may be filed as provided by 37 CFR 1.312. To ensure consideration of such an amendment, it MUST be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee.

Authorization for this examiner's amendment was given in a telephone interview with Mark J. Sullivan on August 24, 2005.

The application has been amended as follows:

IN THE CLAIMS:

In claim 15, line 3, the term -- being -- has been inserted before "placed".

2. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: there is no teaching in the prior art of record for a container and closure as set forth in the claims. More specifically, there is no teaching for a closure having "elastically deformable elastic bands which intersect each other at a center of intersection and cooperate with each other to define an opening through which a sleeve having a diameter and forming a closure member extends, and which elastic bands surround the sleeve of the closure member at said center of intersection such that, when the elastically deformable elastic bands are in a state of rest under no external stress, the diameter of the sleeve is restricted by the elastic bands so that the closure member is closed".

The prior art of record teaches closures having any one of flaps which separate axially with respect to the container, slits which radially expand to allow a needle to penetrate the opening then reseals itself upon removal of the needle, or an elastic band around an opening which stretches for access into and out of the container. The only reference teaching a plurality of bands stretching across the opening of the closure is Jones. However, the bands are a single wire looped across the opening, and there is no motivation in the art to form the single wire of elastic bands.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
